

PRIVACY POLICY

DRC Database respects Subscriber's privacy in any possible way and will do this in conformity with the laws with respect to privacy matters. It is important that the information DRC Database holds is accurate, up-to-date and relevant. It is also important that the information is used only for the reason it was collected. DRC Database is monitored to ensure that your personal information is kept secure and accessed appropriately.

DRC Database protect Subscriber's rights to the fullest and prevents any misuse of personal information. The information privacy principles are strict privacy safeguards that DRC Database must obey when gathering, processing and disclosing information about you. As a general rule, we do not collect personal information about Subscriber when visiting this site. Subscriber can generally visit this site without telling us who Subscriber is, unless Subscriber chooses to provide such information.

Subscriber's personal information will not be disclosed unless the law permits it or Subscriber's permission is given. While DRC Database provides a secure environment, Subscriber should be aware there are inherent risks associated with the transmission of information via the Internet.

Subscriber should also be aware that this website contains links to other sites. DRC Database is not responsible for the content and the privacy practices of other websites and DRC Database encourages Subscriber to read each site's privacy policies.

DRC Database operates this website with outsourced technical assistance. When visiting this site, a record of your visit is logged. Information is recorded for statistical purposes and is used by DRC Database to monitor the use of the site, discover what information is most and least used and to make the site more useful to visitors.

If at any time Subscriber believes we have not adhered to the principles referred to in this privacy statement or have any other comments on these principles, please contact DRC Database.
